Airport Road Business Owners

Estimated Address Change Cost

The enclosed information regarding the change of address costs to the business owners along Airport Road is presented to the Chapel Hill Town Council in support of our opposition to the changing of the name of Airport Road.

I, a business owner (operator) on Airport Road do solicit the Chapel Hill Town Council to not burden me with this unnecessary cost. I would support the memorial dedication that has been suggested in a proposed recommendation with noticeable and eye pleasing markings along Airport Road & Columbia Streets and leaving the mailing address unchanged.

The enclosed information regarding the change of address costs to the business owners along Airport Road is presented to the Chapel Hill Town Council in support of our opposition to the changing of the name of Airport Road.

I, a business owner (operator) on Airport Road do solicit the Chapel Hill Town Council to not burden me with this unnecessary cost. I would support the memorial dedication that has been suggested in a proposed recommendation with noticeable and eye pleasing markings along Airport Road & Columbia Streets and leaving the mailing address unchanged.

I am late with this. Please consider postponing vote on renaming Airport Road.

It seems that....

The local chapter of the NAACP has proposed a controversial idea in wanting to rename Airport Road after Martin Luther King. I hear, have discussed and read about both sides of the controversy and see some merit in all the points of view.
Some are reasoned. Some are not.

In my view....

Wanting to commemorate King is valid. Indeed his importance to all people, not just those of his own race, is in a class with Lincoln and Gandhi.
It's not just local; it's national. It's global.

I've resisted renaming Airport Road and here's why.
I've lived here longer than most people who want the name changed. It's part of my history that I don't want erased. Many older Chapel Hillians feel this way. We have helped build and name parts of this town, and we are even angry that our history is ignored in this discussion.

As others have asked, I ask too, "Why just another street naming? So many towns have done that."
Bruce Egan (Chapel Hill Herald June 13, p.2) has come a little closer to my view even though he proposes renaming the road as well as a memorial in the form of a walkway with statuary and quotations by King.

I suggest a bust of King or life-sized figure placed prominently downtown on Franklin Street, maybe in the open gathering place in front of the old post office. There is already a significant work of art from the early part of the last century in the inside mural. The space is also used for a lot of public business.

But let's not change what works for many. Let's not erase Airport Road's name, and let us find a more fitting memorial for Martin Luther King.

Subject: Solution to the MLK Boulevard, Avenue, Road, Street, Lane issue

Dear Town Council Members,

It is the eve of your renaming a road. I would like to offer my solution. First, I must criticize the manner in which you have discounted some of the people that care deeply about this issue. I understand there is no way you can say no to the NAACP without being labeled racist. It's much easier for you to let the 700 petition signers wear that moniker. That's what Cam Hill called them in today's paper. Nice job of leadership there Cam. Since when are you concerned about an "embarrassment to the town"? By the way, nice job of creating an ugly, eyesore next to a historic district on Cameron Ave. I think your comment might just be called hypocrisy.

Some of your attitudes and actions remind me of Moses Carey and his crusade regarding school merger. It's his way no matter what anyone thinks. You citizens can talk all you want but my mind is made up. I'm right and you're wrong. And if you're against me, you're a rich racist. There's no wonder the public is losing faith in government. Hats off to Edith Wiggins for at least trying to work out a solution for both parties.

As for the road, name it after Jimminy Cricket for all I care. Keep reading and I will offer you a solution to this fiasco. First I must take issue with some assumptions stated by Sally Greene on her web site. She also quotes MLK to support her opinions. I use them to support mine. (Okay, scroll down to see my solution if you're short of time or more likely don't care about my opinions about Sally Greene's comments.)

Sally Greene quote-

"It takes nothing, away, I trust, from the rich beauty of what is found on the MLKs that currently weave through our nation's cities and towns to suggest that bringing this statement to the center of white Chapel Hill would be a step toward the racial unity that Dr. King longed for."

My opinion-

Naming any road after anyone does absolutely nothing to bring two races together, no matter where it weaves.

Sally Greene quote-

"but what would a compromise look like? It could only, I suppose, take the form of a street that changes its name partway down--to a certain point in town, a point where, perhaps, the scenery starts to look very different. That, as you can imagine, has been done before, [6] and surely it does little for the cause of racial unity."

My opinion-

Again. Naming any road after anyone does absolutely nothing to bring two races together, no matter where it weaves. You can't unify races by naming streets after people. What world do you live in Sally?

MLK quote-

"Through violence you may murder a liar, but you can't establish truth."

My opinion-

King is proving my point. You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. Again. Naming any road after anyone does absolutely nothing to bring two races together.

Sally Greene quote-

"There's no reason why local men and women shouldn't have their own memorial (maybe right beside Silent Sam, a counter-memorial)".

My opinion-

Silent Sam is a monument to local men and women. You just weren't here when their sacrifice was important to the citizens of this town. It really doesn't matter which special interest group was supporting the statue then or why. I look at it as a monument to my ancestors who were killed in the Civil War. You look at it as an outdated monument in support of slavery and mistreatment of African-Americans. This is exactly the way your proposal will "resonate" in the future. You want to rename the road to make a statement. So did the citizens who erected Silent Sam. "Future generations" will assign their own judgments about "signposts", not yours. You will not influence them to adopt your way of thinking about racial harmony by naming a road. Does the Silent Sam monument make you remember the Confederate soldiers the way the people who erected it wanted you to? Of course not. As a Texan, Sally Greene, perhaps you would support a monument to Mexican-Americans in front of the Alamo as a "counter-memorial."

MLK quote-

"The Western arrogance of feeling that it has everything to teach others and nothing to learn from them is not just."

My opinion-

This is exactly the way you are treating all the CH residents, not just those who oppose the name change. Ironically, one council member not acting with this arrogance is Edith Wiggins. Maybe a lifetime of living with injustices as a black woman has taught her something others have yet to learn. You are treating the 700 signatures that oppose your crusade like a bunch of insignificant racist republican slave owners. Changing the address of Town Hall does nothing to make them feel better.

Sally Greene quote-

Possibly, "Martin Luther King" signs would be, at most, signposts for a future generation--evidence of a road once taken, but not taken seriously.

My opinion-

The MLK signs will only be looked at as a "me too", (not to mention "me too late") "signpost". To future generations it will be about as symbolic and memorable as another University Drive, University Road, University Boulevard or University Avenue. No one will be in awe that the road is a major artery to anywhere. People just don't do that.

I think it is here that I can offer a solution, although I don't believe you are open to alternatives. Rename the airport Martin Luther King Jr. Airport. Then when it is torn down, you can rename the road MLK Airport Road. Future generations will ponder, "You mean there was an airport here named for MLK? Wow, this must be a town that had it's act together in regards to racial unity!" That's the reaction you want to hear! That's the statement you are trying to make! This would also diffuse the objections to redoing stationery and the historical Airport thing. You would be able to phase in the idea slowly as stationery runs out. The history of the airport will be preserved. The NAACP will be more than pleased. And you will have shown extraordinary vision by pleasing both sides with a win-win solution.

Back to Sally Greene.

Sally Greene quote-

If for us Dr. King's beloved community was only a dream, at least let it be said that we shared it.

My opinion-

Renaming the road does not do this. No one is ever going to ride down that road and think, "Isn't this a nice thing for white people to have done, name this road for MLK. They must have shared his dream to do such a thing. And how about that Sally Greene! Let's excuse her from all of our past and future judgments about racism."

One solution is to rename the airport first, then the road. How many airports are named after MLK? Even if it is destined to be torn down, the name MLK Airport Road will remain and elicit the discussion and resonance you seem to be seeking. Apologies to Horace Williams, but he was no MLK. Besides he already has a house and a tract. That's making a statement!

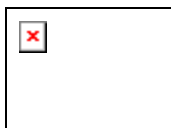

There was a right way to do this and so far you haven't done it. You could have listened to your community and found a compromise that we all could be proud of. But instead, many of you jumped off the cliff with the rest of the lemmings. Mayor Foy was right about more time given to the Apple Chill discussions than this issue.

I'm sure you are going to pass the name change regardless of what anyone other than the NAACP thinks.

We are stuck with it and the aftertaste of the process whether we like it or not.

Dear Mayor and Town Council:

I would like you to think about how you will feel after the council votes to approve this resolution. You will have erased a piece of Chapel Hill's history. You will have alienated a good portion of this community. You will have made a mockery of this entire process.

And for what?

You will have done nothing to address the problems of racism and social justice in this town. You address those issues by equal opportunity in jobs, education, housing. Not by renaming a street. That seems so obvious to me, and I am surprised it hasn't occurred to the learned members of the council

As for honoring Martin Luther King: We have a Nation Holiday in Dr. King's honor. And over 600 streets across the country named after him, including the new Dr. Martin Luther King Parkway in southwest Durham. I would hope Chapel Hill could do something different.

In any event, this should be seriously discussed, but it won't be. For it is clear your minds are made up and that all arguments fall upon deaf ears.

I no longer feel this town council represents the people of Chapel Hill, and I will be voting against anyone who votes for this proposal.

--Brian Biswas

I am against changing the name of Airport Road to Martin Luther King Blvd.

I do not live on Airport Road. I have no fondness for the airport, and I wouldn't care if you changed the road name to something else. But MLK Blvd is too long: no road name should have more than three syllables. Additionally, a road is not a fitting tribute; naming a building or park after King would be more appropriate. I would like to see officials to give further consideration to naming a local hero.

I wish to register my protest against the re-naming of Airport Road. I own a packaging and shipping store, so the renaming will not only affect my business, but also the 50 individuals and businesses who rent private mailboxes at my location.

I am not against honoring Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr...but I am against rebranding an established road. Why not rename South Fordham Boulevard? Far less businesses & individuals will be affected as well it could help clear confusion. We have a store location at the intersection of Smith Level Road...but 9 out of 10 customers who look for it based on the Fordham Boulevard address wind-up near Eastgate or University Mall. Here's an opportunity for the town of Chapel Hill to honor the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. and help rectify an already confusing road name!

Please do not force an issue that creates the impression of racist attitudes where no such attitudes currently exist. By this statement I mean that I am against any renaming of Airport Road. The Town of Chapel Hill has been elected to carry out the will of the people...and the past three weeks I have heard nothing but negative reactions to this rebranding - from customers of all walks of life passing through my doors.

Petition for Council Consideration Preserving Airport Road

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Chapel Hill

This Petition is presented on behalf of the citizens and businesses present in the Council Chambers and those not able to be present, including the more than 700 citizens who have signed petitions to protect the integrity of the name of Airport Road. We ask that the Council give serious consideration to, and pass the alternative proposal that Mayor Pro Tem Edith Wiggins presented to the Council Naming Committee on June 1, 2004, and reported to the community by our local newspapers.

Whereby the name of Airport Road would remain and continue to be the mailing address for all citizens and all businesses located on Airport Road but the road would be dedicated to the Memory and Honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr with an official Proclamation as a "Dedicated Roadway" from I40 in the north to the Chatham County line in the south; with the necessary signage erected along its entire length. In addition, that a formidable area in the planned expansion of the Chapel Hill Public Library be dedicated as the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. wing, where published writings, speeches and books by Dr. King and pertinent to the Civil Rights Movement be maintained. Such wing would be large enough to hold classes and lectures on Dr. King's life and the dream he shared with us all. We feel this would be a truly fitting Memorial to the greatness of the man, his dream and his teachings.

WHY IS IT CALLED AIRPORT ROAD?

....ASK OVER 18,000 VETERANS AND A PRESIDENT.

War and Recovery Once More

A year before the guns of September 1939, war in Europe jarred Chapel Hill when UNC boxer Joseph O'Flaherty (class of 1937) died fighting for the Loyalists in Spain. In February 1941, Chapel Hillian John Yates Varley died of wounds in Inverness, Scotland, following a German air raid. After the United States entered the war, more than 20 Chapel Hillians would die in battle, many more in training accidents and from other causes.

In May 1940, UNC President Frank Porter Graham offered UNC to the department of defense—for any assignment. Four months later the war department okayed a $154,835 grant that expanded the C.L. Martindale Airport into the Horace Williams Airport. In February 1942, the U.S. Navy established a Naval Pre-Flight Pilot Training School at UNC that trained 18,700 men, including future President Gerald Ford. On campus, the Navy built a hospital, a gym, an armory, a pool, and an officers' club as well as dozens of smaller structures. The Navy gave ships names familiar to Chapel Hillians—SS Cornelia P. Spencer, SS Horace Williams, SS David L. Swain, SS Elisha Mitchell, SS Kemp P. Battle, and the SS Byng Farrar, named for Alexander Patterson "Byng" Farrar, who died along with his 17-man crew when his Army tanker exploded on April 9, 1945.

The population of Chapel Hill streaked upward 251 percent between 1940 and 1950, to 9,177. When some 4,500 veterans enriched by the G.I. Bill arrived in the fall of 1946, hundreds had to live temporarily in tent encampments on campus, but the 1940s and 1950s in toto were joyous years, leading blindly into the wracking turmoil of the 1960s

Mayor and Council,

I watched a story on TV about some business men that are opposed to the renaming of Airport Rd to Martin Luther King Blvd and would like to comment.

In my job I travel to cities all around the country. As part of the travel I always like to get out and see what the area offers. But before I go exploring I generally try and get from the hotel desk some idea of the areas I don't want to be near.

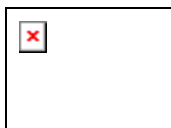

One location that I usually avoid is any street name Martin Luther King Blvd.

One of the Airport Rd business owners said on TV the reason he was against changing the roads name was the cost of new stationary and confusion of his customers. In the next breath he had to state he was not a racist so I suspect the he understands that a lot of people won't stop at business on a street named Martin Luther King Blvd. And in fact many unfamiliar with the area would entirely avoid Marting Luther King Blvd which would hurt all of the businesses on the road.

While I don't live in Chapel Hill, I thought it would good to provide feedback that may give a clue to what a lot of people are thinking, but afraid to say due to "Political Correctness"

Thank You,
M Dodson

If Airport Road gets renamed it ought to be in keeping with our educational Village atmosphere and should reflect the Village Heritage....Bill Friday Blvd....preferably Frank Porter Graham. Better yet leave it Airport Road.

Importance: High

Honorable Mayor and Town Council members.

I work in Chapel Hill at the University and, until the past month, had lived in Chapel Hill or Carrboro for more than a dozen years. I frequently travel "Airport Road" and would be thrilled to see that road renamed to honor one of our country's greatest men, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

I assure you, history will remember such a gesture favorably. Please do not let those who oppose this gesture either for material or political reasons keep you from doing what is not only the right thing but is also a positive thing for a town whose physical infrastructure, including its roads, university, and many of its homes, was built and continues to be maintained by indentured or wage-slave labor. It is an historically long-overdue gesture of reconciliation to those whom we white southerners have so egregiously wronged.

Thank you,

I urge you to make no decision this evening renaming Airport Road to Martin Luther King Road. Or any time soon.

Instead of the current contention, community consensus is needed for a dramatic move or change of this sort. That could take a convenient long time. To everyone's benefit.

I do not live on Airport Road.

I honor the person and memory of Martin Luther King. I met him. We shook hands. Ellen and I attended a speech/sermon in a black church in Williamsburg in 1963, where we and others stood in the back the whole exciting time.

Perhaps we can think outside the box. Beyond the original proposal but not at all negating its intent. Raleigh Road? It's long, visible. South Road? Pretty dull name.

Or some major new road to be created down the line. This will surely happen in due course. It's hard to imagine anyone's objecting or being inconvenienced or concerned about retaining local history.

Just occurred to me that we have no Washington Street. Or Lincoln. Or Eisenhower. Or if we do, they are short and out of the way. Roosevelt Drive is there, but minor.

I have not found anyone in our neighborhood or in our circle of friends who is in favor of changing the name of Airport Road (and Columbia St. and NC 86)..It will be truly disruptive of the spirit in which it has been suggested..to honor Rev. Martin Luther King. Another idea has been suggested to me..rename South Road..it is surrounded by University personnel who have CB addresses, it does not go SOUTH, and it runs right in front of the new Black Cultural Center...South Road goes through the middle of campus..what better way to honor the good reverend than to change a road name to re-establish a connection to the community through the black students and their predecessors..And it will not divide the community...Please don't do something just because you have the power.

Incidentally what effect will the proposed change have on what is now OLD Highway 8?
Please forward to the council members. Thanks, Trish and George Love

Subject: Please Vote No to Renaming Roads; Vote Yes to Progress

Mayor and Members of the Town Council:

1. Please vote "Yes" to a Resolution along the lines of Options 2A and B outlined in the June 14 memo from the "Council Naming Committee."

2. Please vote "No" to Recommendations/Resolutions A, B, and D of the same committee regarding renaming Airport Road. I believe it would be destructive to Town unity to REname streets without overwhelming support from those directly affected, and you don't have that.

(The name of the "Council Naming Committee" should be the "Council Renaming Committee," if what you really want them to consider is REnaming streets.) There is a huge difference between naming a new street and renaming a street in which owners, residents, and business interests already have a stake, both psychologically and financially.

3. Why not concentrate on doing something positive that everyone can support, that will bring people together, and that will actually help those in the community that most need a leg up--on education, time and money management, for example? Changing the name of a street or streets does not change lives. Trips to the library can be enlightening, and the library is a good place to meet with a variety of helpers and volunteers as well. It's a place full of books, magazines, CDs, computers, community information, a quiet place to think, and the TV is off. It's free and is open to everyone in the Town.

4. If the Town were to respond to the NAACP's request with a well thought out response, such as dedicating NC Hwy86 as a Memorial to MLK, Jr., the ideas in Option 2 Part A sound wonderful. This plan would accomplish the goal of honoring King along the route, and would not be disruptive to people and businesses with Airport Road addresses (or MLK, Jr addresses either). But even better, is Option 2 Part B, because of it's educational thrust, and because it could likely draw more young people, in particular, into the library to learn about Dr. King's legacy and to learn about everything else too. In contrast to Resolutions A, B, and D, Options 2A and 2B both honor Dr. King, and at the same time set out to make some actual progress towards making his Dream come true.

Thanks again for your consideration and the hard work you do on the Council, building and maintaining the Chapel Hill/Carrboro community as an inclusive community.

Betsy Malpass

Copy for the Record
June 14, 2004-Town Council Meeting

My name is Melissa Johnson Lankford and I appreciate the opportunity to speak this evening.

I was mildly encouraged by Mayor Foy's memo that is being introduced this evening. It validates the primary concern of those opposed to the re-naming of Airport Road---the simple fact that no individual or business directly effected by this change has been consulted regarding impact to them and the feelings of history and pride citizens and others have in Airport Road. I am hopeful that the memo will be approved. And that a proper review and compromise will be reached by a cross-section of those affected and those desiring the renaming. Airport Road will ensue.

First to recap: there have been 879 signers to the petition in opposition of renaming Airport Road for anyone or anything, there are now 157 additional signatures added to the 722. 744 have CH addresses, 63-Carrboro, 22-Hillsborough, 15-Durham, 10-Pittsboro and 25-Other; 144 signers had Airport Road addresses. Please bear in mind that of the 135 non-CH addresses the majority own property on Airport Road or as I, have a vested interest there through family or business. Are you aware this proposal has brought more comment to Town Hall than any other proposal since curbside garbage collection? Unnamed sources in Town Hall report more than the majority of phone calls have been against this proposal with hundred of calls received as well as the vast majority of letters to the Council, Mayor and Town Hall. The numbers just don't add up.

To date we have received rough cost analyses from 16 businesses that calculate the cost of this proposed change to Airport Rd totaling in excess of $151,402 for the impact to business. This does not include the cost to residences or the larger businesses that must have all changes take place through a corporate office. Additionally there will be a very large cost to the Town of CH not just for new street signage but for the recommendation seeking to change the address of the Town Hall---this will be passed on to all taxpayers in CH, a double-whammy for those on Airport Road---clearly a demonstration of the Naming Committee's disregard for citizen input and pocketbooks. By reviewing these numbers, packets, and other documentation you have received; I hope you will see the REAL impact of this proposed change.

Second, I am still confused as to why those who are opposed to this renaming be required to offer up evidence that this is not a well thought out idea. As of yet, there have been no tangible reasons given for renaming Airport Road. It is preposterous to me and at least 879 others, that we who have had no voice continue to be required to justify keeping Airport Road as Airport Road. Some on the council have stated this is just like moving, but you are certainly wrong---we did not choose to make a move---we have been evicted---from Airport Road and this process!

Third, I was dismayed by the remarks of Cam Hill in yesterday's CH Newspaper—he stated that much opposition to changing the name of Airport Road is veiled racism—Mr. Hill this borders on slandering those who have exercised their right to participate in this so called process. Those of us in opposition to this proposed name change have solidly evidenced our position through comments, signed petitions, letters, emails, phone calls, attending meetings, and more—and we have been clear throughout, it is not Dr King we are opposed to, our opposition is to any name change at all.

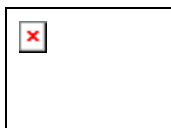

In closing, I encourage you to receive and review the petition put forth by Charles Carver this evening.

Signed,

 6/14/04

Forget the road. Take Umstead Park and rename it Martin Luther King Park. It would be a real and living memorial to Dr. King and would be a learning opportunity for all kids visiting the park. It would start with a dedication ceremony followed by years of kids and their parents visiting the park and being reminded each time of the man and what he did. The park should include an area with a plaque and information about Dr. King and his accomplishments.

No kid in Chapel Hill is ever going to point to a road sign and ask his parents to explain it. Add to that the fact that the sign would be virtually ignored by everyone just like ALL street signs. But a park would be a living and enjoyable source of great pride for young black kids and a chance for all kids and their parents to have Dr. King's life and accomplishments brought to life. What better honor to Dr. King than a place where white and black kids play together just as he dreamed they should.

Mayor and Council Members --

I wrote to you early in the discussion of renaming Airport Road, suggesting that it seemed a stereotyped gesture, and that more appropriate recognition of Dr. King could be made by the Town.

I have since followed with interest the intense debate on this issue, and now encourage you NOT to rename Airport Road for other reasons.

First, the anger and divisiveness that have arisen are counter to the message of Dr. King. This aspect alone should encourage a solution supported by all citizens.

Second, I feel that some on the Council have adopted a regrettable stance of "we have decided what is best" ... and the road will be renamed -- without adequate exploration of options supported by thoughtful and concerned citizens.

Third, in discussions with many residents of Chapel Hill, I have found only one person who supports the renaming. All find offense in the introduction of the "race card" -- that is, if you're against this issue -- then you're a racist.

My final concern is the potential for voter backlash against a Council most agree was elected with a strong mandate to address critical issues of University development. The amount of ill-will potentially generated by the renaming of Airport Road could easily affect Council negotiations with the University about the critically important issues of Carolina North.

I urge the Mayor and Council to continue discussion of the renaming issue until solutions have been reached that resonate well with all citizens of Chapel Hill.

Looks like it is a done deal. Just so I will feel better about the whole thing I would like to go on record as still being opposed to the renaming of Airport Road.

It would seem to me that the Council would have more pressing things to discuss than this issue.

Sincerely,

Howard Stewart

To members of the Chapel Hill City Council:

Dr. King was truly one of the greatest civic leaders of the twentieth century. Few civic tributes to his memory can do justice to the societal change his life and good works inspired.

But no tribute to him can be more demeaning or insulting than to name or re-name a local street for him. A street?! For Heaven's Sake! The proposal is a put-down that might more appropriately have originated with individuals whose purpose is to discredit King and his good works, rather than to memorialize them.

I would rather see my tax dollars spent on a bronze statue of Dr. King placed permanently and prominently in front of the former Chapel Hill Post Office -- perhaps within a setting that might also recognize the names of local individuals who, inspired by Dr. King, contributed so significantly to the civil rights struggle in Chapel Hill. Many deserving local citizens come to mind.

Memorials to figures like the Rev. Martin Luther King, whose very name is in a real sense a memorial to another great historical figure, are too important to be trivialized by the name of a street, no matter its location or significance.

In the fifty-plus years I have lived in Chapel Hill, I have seen a lot of dumb proposals come and go. The one currently under consideration by the Council should take a prize of some sort.

Hold up, think about what you are doing, and turn this business over to a select group of individuals who can think more seriously and creatively than the council about such an important issue.

Dr. King and the historical record deserve better.

Subject: Airport Road's Renaming

Dear Council Members,

I am sure you are receiving hundreds of emails much like this one concerning the renaming of Airport Road and I can only hope that you will act on the situation in order to serve the most good for the most people. What would renaming this major road achieve? Are we truly honoring Dr. MLK or just changing the name of a road where an airport doesn't exist anymore? If the town of Chapel Hill is seeking to honor Dr. MLK then why not create a fund or a program to help the homeless or the schools or some other great cause in our area isn't of spending thousands of dollars changing the name of a street. Actually doing this would take more money and more effort- but wouldn't it be worth it?

Would Dr. MLK want ANOTHER street named after him? Or would he prefer ACTION for the cause he lived and died for instead of this expensive and hollow act of symbolism? The average business person and the city will have to spend money to change their address and their signs- but what are we really trying to say by changing the name?

Please, I urge you to not change the name of Airport Road and instead take that money to actually make a positive change in the lives of the people who would drive, walk and sleep on the "Dr. Martin Luther King Rd." As a recent graduate of UNC I have little hope that this email we be read and little hope that Airport Rd will keep its name. I implore you to prove me wrong.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Wicker
