1. Overall assessment of session	4.37
2. Usefulness of content	4.58
3. Usefulness of format	4.63
4. Fulfillment of session objectives	4.63
5. Fulfillment of your expectations	4.47
6. Skill of facilitators	5.32
7. Flow of agenda	5.05
8. Facilities (place, food, etc.)	4.53
9. Usefulness of handouts	4.58

Additional Comments:

- Questions still remains as to whether process employed is fully democratic.
- This session began with the premise that race is a black issue – and was at the core of the issue – feel that this may have narrowed the expectations and potential outcome.
- Well designed. Dialogue like this is much needed for Airport Road and other issues.
- I look forward to further discussions tomorrow and the full engagement of everyone.
- Feel too one sided.
- I have more hope than I did before today, and that means something. Voices have been heard, I think.

3. Usefulness of format	5.67
4. Fulfillment of session objectives	5.56
5. Fulfillment of your expectations	5.50
6. Skill of facilitators	5.83
7. Flow of agenda	5.59
8. Facilities (place, food, etc.)	4.22
9. Usefulness of handouts	4.53

Additional Comments:

- Very impressed with how you framed the issues for today's small group work. Did a good job synthesizing group's various interests, hopes, and fears.
- Great – useful in each area in helping arrive at final decision. This process needs to be expanded to further the race relations discussions.
- Right facilitators to conduct this type of session. Great job.
- Wonderful!
- Still feel that if the cards were not stacked it would be a different outcome.
- We need to have greater ways of affirming one another at the end of the day in a more personal way.
- Very good session.
- This session was very successful in tying together the work of the previous day.
- Excellent work to shape a productive dialogue and keep a potentially explosive situation under control and moving forward.
- I still feel as if there are a lot of things left unsaid, and while there is an atmosphere of optimism, it will need to be moved or it will fade.
- The facilitators were especially adept at understanding and clarifying – distilling points of view that were tough to get. Well done, well done.
