Based upon our experience in auditing these accounts, we recommend:

First. That the Tax Collector be directed to begin on May 1 of each year a new series of receipt books for all taxes.

Second. That the Tax Collector be directed to keep a special receipt book, with stubs, for dog taxes, and a special receipt book, with stubs, for miscellaneous receipts, giving receipt in each case for all funds received on these two accounts, and in addition, the usual brass checks for dogs.

Third. That the Tax Collector be directed to prepare an alphabetical list of all parties from whom the sanitary tax is to be collected, showing the amount due from each, for each quarter.
